On Monday next the base ball team which calls this city "home" will return to the source whence flows much of the cash it subsists upon. If it is as modest as thoroughly-licked people usually are it will get off the train somewhere in the suburbs and at about eventide steal without ostentation to its roost. It might be pertinent at this time to ask why the Washington Base Ball Team was so denominated. Why, in the first place, Washington? The replies are far from satisfactory. Perhaps the management was looking around for a good name and concluded that Washington was a trifle better than any of the others in sight; or it may have been because the enthusiasts here presented evidences of verdancy not easily to be found elsewhere in such paying quantities; or, probably, because the athletes who compose the noble aggregation are not Washingtonians at all, but | And now o new singer they'll hoir.

This has been repeated until it has ceased to excite wonder—until the community regards it an every-day affair. The pages of this paper would not contain an enumeration of the cases of the afflicted who have appealed to this "court of last resort"—all other hope dead—and now gladly proclaim their restoration to health and happiness—to home and friends—who in their gratitude and joy

To those unfamiliar with this New Hope we would come with words of good cheer, bringing promise of the blessings of health, obtainable, we know, from no other source save this. To this class of unfortunates these words should come like unto a new gospel of physical regeneration, bringing sweet comfort to those grievously afflicted, who, having exhausted all known skill, are ready to give up in despair. To such we would say that we know whereof we write when we state that we have satisfied ourselves beyond the slightest peradventure of a doubt that a cure is here obtainable when no other hope exists on earth. Dr. Carleton's education has been broad and Hberal and has been enriched by converse and association

This journal neither solicits nor accepts paid "write-ups" of any physician, and serves no interest save those of its readers, but it is always ready and willing to proclaim rare and phenomenal merit wherever such is found. In this case an overwhelming array of competent testimony was freely offered to prove ability of the highest type, which has achieved success bordering upon the miraculous. Indeed, all the evidence was unanimously in favor—nothing against—not a single note of discord to jar upon the harmony of universal praise. Leaders in the marts of trade: highest officials in the banks; the heads of industrial instutions—all when questioned heartily conceded tribute in words so culoristic that our representatives could not but believe that a master of his profession—a physician of paramount skill—had impressed his inherent worth upon the people. Case after case was cited wherein the ability of the local practitioner and family physician was unavailing—where every 33 1-3 Cents on the Dollar!

MONEY! MONEY! MONEYR

We have a large amount of money to raise by Au-gust 1, and rather than pay the exorbitant rate of in-terest now asked by money lenders have decided to sacrifice our stock and thus give our patrons the bone-

Our stock is all fresh and destrable, and comprises everything usually to be found in a first-class dry goods establishment, and at the marked prices are as loss and in many instances lower than our competitors, All goods marked in plain figures, from which results be allowed.

Discount of 25 Per Cent for Cash. Or in other words, a dollar's worth for 750, This is a legitimate sacrifice cale and is an opportunity soldom if ever offered,
